Columbia Bible College

Columbia, South Carolina

I am come that they might have life

Dedicated To

Edith T. Owings

Working, toiling, many days — No desire for human praise, Working only for Her Lord, And the thought of His reward.

To one who is little known to many, but loved by those who know her . . .

To one who has labored faithfully and quietly for 24 years at Columbia Bible College... To one who in confining and routine work has taught us by her example the meaning of doing "all in the name of the Lord Jesus"... To one who has shown before us all a consistent testimony of a life fragrant with the spirit of Christ... To Miss Edith T. Owings, Bookkeeper and Assistant Treasurer, we, the class of 1950 gratefully dedicate this book.

"He's all paid up"

"I'll add it to your account."

Alma Mater

Columbia, Alma Mater,
Thy name we would adorn
With filial devotion
Of veneration born.
In land of golden jasmine
And fair magnolia white
Thy tow'rs are pointing upward
Toward God and heaven and light.

Of rare and costly marble
Thy walls were never reared,
But sons and daughters noble
To whom His grace appeared,

Have ever been thy bulwarks, Thy rare adornment, too. Columbia Bible College, Our Alma Mater true.

The vision thou hast given
Of truth and human need
Inspires us all to service
To sow the Precious Seed.
May we in consecration
To Jesus Christ alone,
Fulfill thy sacred purpose
"To know and make Him known."

-Evangeline B. Kimber, 27-T.

Looking backward o'er the pathway Strewn with blessings rich and free, Wondrously His hand has brought us To our Silver Inbilee. "Yesteryear" a little handful,

Saved to serve, at any cost-With all "the children Thon hast given us" Today, we come, a mighty host.

Cutting up

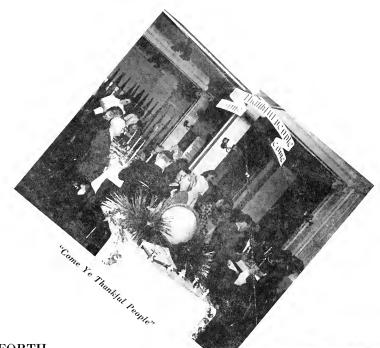

U-m-Turkey!

And Thanksqiving Day

HENCEFORTH

Looking forward, oh how blessed O'er the paths untried and new, Trusting Him for full provision Who has blest us hitherto; For the "greater works" He promised, For closed doors, flung open wide, For fresh trophies for His triumph, Every need shall be supplied.

It's the end of the trail . . . for the "Forty Niners." Caps and gowns climax four years of exploration in pioneer territory.

Never to be forgotten are the treks along the trails of knowledge and the pioneering days of chapel messages, practice teaching, and Senior class trip to Cheraw. In addition to these, were the surprises at Junior-Senior Banquet, bringing back vivid memories of the past to spur the travelers on.

This year 66 "Forty Niners" go forth to share with others their riches and to make new conquests for God in coming days.

We finally made it!

From the defeated Black Cats of last year's football game to the victorious Green Goats, the Junior Class, for the first time in three years, came out on top in the annual Grit Bowl Classic.

With a spirit of enthusiasm characterizing all that they did, the Juniors climaxed a busy year with the production of the 1949 Finial. In all of their class life, great joy has come in being co-workers for the Lord.

Gone is the greenness . . . And the aptitude for making boners, typical of the Freshman year . . . instead, budding theologians with knowledge to spare. Scholars at work with language and lit, and much to do, Sophs found their second year brimful. Hamburger fries at Sesqui, and volley ball games at Earlewood, combined with all the other activities of the class, gave them a sense of oneness in their work and play.

"Poor Frosh!"

Plunging into the complex life of C.B.C., they suffered the ordeals of orientation exams, were initiated into the mysteries of the Blue Book, and came face to face with their future professors at the opening reception.

After a week of that they began to feel a moving part of the busy whirl of the C.B.C. family.

With the passing of the first year, the early impressions of school life have gone and in place has come a greater desire to dig into the riches that they have just begun to discover.

Graduate Class

Officers

Exploding the common idea that professional failures go into Christian work, the graduate class consists of trained musicians, teachers, doctors, nurses, an occupational therapist, and even a Greek scholar, who have left the lucrative jobs—to follow Him.

If one drops in most any time at Grad Hall of the new dorm or on second floor of Piekens, he will find them steeped in studies, if not on a trip to Sesqui, out bike riding, or in the social room involved in lengthy discussions, "pro and con" in most any debatable topic.

In Memorium

Stephen J. Barrett

1915-1948

After years of fruitful service, Steven Barrett went to be with Christ on September 14, 1948.

In 1937, Steve Barrett completed his training at Columbia Bible College. He spent the next nine years in Zululand, South Africa, where he met and married Betty Sywulka, class of '33.

Before Betty contracted tuberculosis, the Lord gave them two little girls, but in June 1946, the disease took her life. Returning from Africa in the Spring of '47, Steve entered summer school and in the fall began to complete work for his M.A.

Steve, president of the Alumni Association for the year of 1947-48, was unable to continue in this capacity because he was stricken with Leukemia. On May 31, Columbia Bible College granted his M.A. in absentia. Also, in his memory, the Alumni presented the Bible College sign.

His faithful, self-sacrificing life will, in time, he forgotten here on earth. But the fruits of that life are eternal.

H. Wadell Fratt

1873-1949

In the early summer of '48, he suffered a heart attack from which he never fully recovered. Unable to continue teaching, he and Mrs. Pratt went to Montreat, North Carolina, where he remained until his death.

For his desire to develop in us the power of independent thought; for his rare insight in opening to us the secrets of the mind of man and the nature of the universe; for his deep longing that we, as we increased in spiritual knowledge, should be filled with the love of God; and, above all, for his splendid example of all things fine and true, we pause in grateful tribute to Dr. H. Waddell Pratt, who awaits us in that realm where things of the mind and things of the spirit are one.

From its inception nineteen years ago with four members, to the present seventeen members, the Student Association has served as a medium of cooperation between the student body and the administration. It has sought to coordinate student activities, to inspire student loyalty to the college and its standards, and to create an atmosphere of unity both among students and between students and faculty.

Two outstanding achievements of the past year have been the naming of the three dormitories on the north campus and the student-initiated, student-conducted Campus Improvement Program.

What goes on behind the scenes?

It's deadline week! The editor hurries through the lobby tracking down faculty members on the run. Up on the rooftop, Max is snapping a closing shot. Over in the FINIAL Room, Gwen is tangled up in scotch tape as she sets pictures, while Elaine and Martha are somewhere behind a "Busy" composing writeups. Meanwhile, the other editors are collecting ads, bills, subscriptions and completing the art sketches.

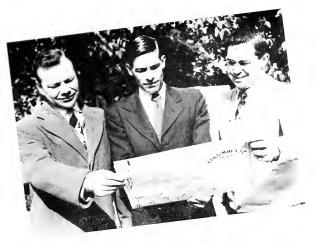

The whole Junior Class, in fact, is cooperating to put out what they hope will be "the best Finial yet."

"Fundamental, not incidental," describes the relation of Christian Service to the scholastic life of Columbia Bible College.

Sending its students into hospitals, industrial schools, Bible Clubs, orphanages, missions, and other open doors, provides Christian service training and practice for the student as well as promoting the cause of Christ in surrounding areas.

Service

MR. TOM PETTY
Director of Men's Christian Service

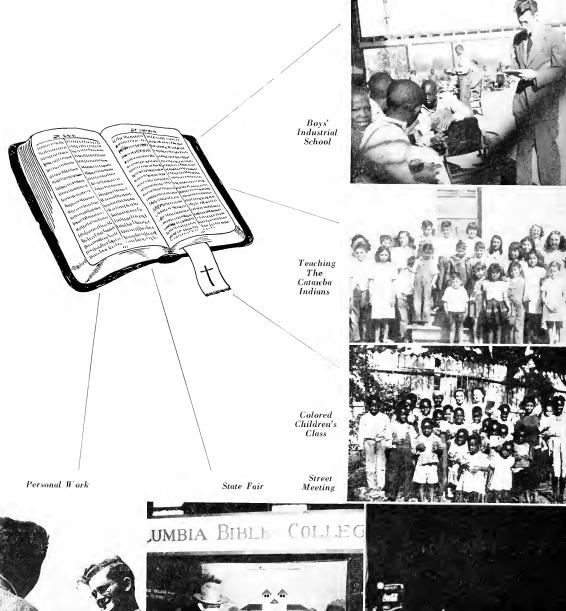

MR. OTIS BRASWELL
Assistant

The Men's Christian Service Department operating separately from the women's department offers an important opportunity for work with the servicemen stationed at Fort Jackson, where several weekly meetings are held. Also student pastorates, missions, jails, and penal institutions serve as outlets for Christian activity.

Thus in these ways, the slogan of the Christian service department sums up all of our aims into one eentral goal — that of taking the Good News to those who are without Christ.

"Who keeps books on C.B.C. graduates?" "Who keeps them up to date?"

"The Alumni Association, of course!"

Publishing the Directory and CeBeCequel, also sponsoring gifts to out-going missionaries, and keeping in touch with them, the association seeks to tie graduates to the local program.

When statements like these come in: "We want only Bible College graduates in our work," "We accept without question students from your school," the hearts of alumni are made glad because it indicates that alumni have succeeded.

Foreign Missions Fellowship, a fundamental offspring of the Student Volunteer Movement, was born in 1935 on the Ben Lippen Conference grounds. The first chapter, organized that year at Columbia Bible College, made it a reality.

Today, it is merged with the Inter-Varsity Fellowship, an active campus organization, setting forth the missionary need to the Christian students in Universities. Colleges, and Bible Institutes around the world.

Weekly meetings and prayer groups, deputations and conferences lead the student to active interest in foreign missions. As a result, today, one hundred eighty-four members are planning to fulfill the FMF motto, "The Lord Jesus Christ unto the uttermost," in service on the field.

With a song in their hearts a prerequisite, students in the music department find opportunity to develop their talents. Organized group singing, trios, quartettes, and the chorus are used in the school meetings and assemblies, as well as on Christian service assignments and deputations.

Besides the private piano and voice lessons, courses in music notation, harmony, conducting, and evangelistic hymn playing are offered. Adequate instruction has been provided for beginning music students as well as the more advanced ones in order to more fully equip them for life work.

The Philobiblonian Literary Society aims to open the cloisters of literary knowledge to each of its members. The programs focus on famous works of cultural heritage, which prove more profitable for the refining and enrichment of Christian women. Development of qualities becoming to one who is to be a worker for God is the supreme motive of the Society as they concentrate their program almost entirely upon student preparation and student presentation.

"One good picture is worth a thousand words," is an adaptation from a Chinese proverb, by the Camera Club, which received official recognition by the faculty on February 12, 1948.

In the fall of 1947 the "shutter-bugs" had a meager beginning with only a few members and a one-man dark-room constructed by Mr. Hehl, faculty adviser. The darkroom, which was located in the basement of the middle building, has now been expanded into a large, fully equipped darkroom in the basement of the main building. The "push-pull-click-clickers" are developing, printing, and enlarging both black and white and color films.

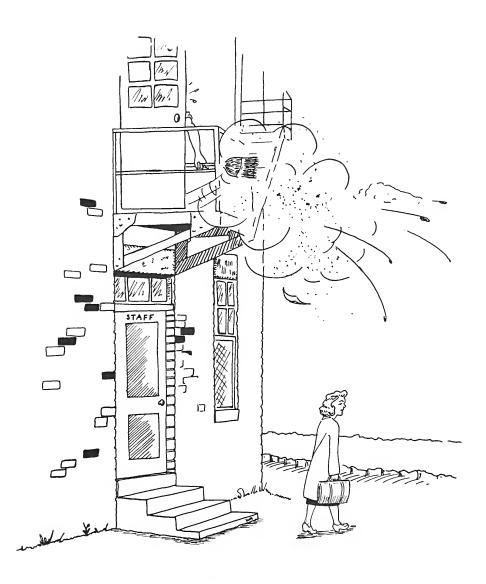

The club has been established that the men might serve God more effectively through photography both here at home and on the mission field.
